

IECnet Press-release

October 2018

IECnet adds new member in Guatemala

IECnet, the international network of independent audit, accounting and tax practices, is pleased to announce that it has a new member in Guatemala.

Founded in 1988, Velasco & Asociados is an audit, administrative consulting, tax and financial consulting firm, with professionals with great experience in these areas.

The experience accumulated over the years is the product of the effort of the personalized work that each and every one of those that make up the different areas of the firm which provides the highest quality and add value for the benefit of their customers; as well as offering other related professional services.

Velasco & Asociados serves and helps large national and international companies, non-profit organizations and small and medium-sized businesses to grow.

The professional career of its founder, Mario Leonel Velasco López, includes more than 40 years of experience, which allows him to guide the services of auditing, fiscal, administrative and financial consulting.

Their professional staff has been selected after a careful process carried out, and both partners and professional staff meet the standards set by the profession and compete both nationally and internationally, with training obtained in Guatemala and abroad. For this purpose, they have training programs that include a minimum of annual hours of participation in specially prepared courses for each of the different levels of audit, administrative, accounting, fiscal, financial and systems issues.

Velasco & Asociados is proud and happy to join IECnet as the Guatemala member of a network composed of professionals with the highest standards worldwide.

For more information, please go to www.iecnet.net.

To contact IECnet: info@iecnet.net